

Hello, XM is the greatest thing since cornflakes...it would be a shame to do away with it...I love listening to my XM while at work, some of the music that I haven't heard in years really brings back good memories and makes my day a lot better...the weather forecasts are also great being able not only to get the update at home but all around...And not to mention about the commercial free it's really awesome.